

Texas Gem

a Mystery box by Open Space

Note – this box will not be available before the event!

Deep within Texas is a remote and sprawling national park – home to mountains, canyons, and unique desert wildlife. Come visit the Chihuahuan Desert, Chisos mountains, and be sure to hike the Window Trail! But the real fun begins at night – this park has the lowest measured light levels in the lower 48 states, so the stars and milky way are bright and visible on clear nights.

Once you identify this Texas Gem, you need to find it's home in McKinney Roughs park! Somewhere in the park is an abandoned garden or nature area in the shape of Texas. If you are fortunate enough to find it, you will find the Texas Gem in the appropriate location under a small cairn of rocks. Please re-cover carefully!
